

WEATHER—For Kentucky
Much colder Tuesday

HOPKINSVILLE KENTUCKY, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1916.

VOL. 37—No. 227

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Let's take care of John M. Parker.

The Deutschland is ready to disappear.

Everybody agrees that the Colonel helped some.

A Thanksgiving proclamation is now in order.

For once the Hon. Theodore Roosevelt has kept mighty quiet.

One judicial ermine in the hand is worth two nominations in the bush.

The war news has again occupied the trenches on the front page, from which it was driven a week ago.

Judge Hughes voted ballot No. 13 at his precinct in New York. Local Democrats celebrated Wilson's election Nov. 13.

French aeroplanes have raided three towns in Bulgaria and three in Prussia, bringing down three German aeroplanes.

Henry Youtsey has hit upon a plan to get even with those on the outside. He has written and published a book of poems.

Campbell Cantrill as a campaign manager is a success, in spite of the abuse heaped upon him in some quarters. Kentucky gave 27,000.

In Christian county 12,000 ballots 19 inches long were printed and more than 8,200 of them were voted. The ballots placed end to end were 3 1/2 miles long.

The total popular vote was 16,724,114, or nearly 2,600,000 more than in 1912. Wilson vote of 8,563,713 was 403,312 more than that of Hughes and the highest vote ever received by any man in the United States.

With New Mexico, and New Hampshire counted, Wilson has 276 votes with a chance that Minnesota's delayed returns will add 12 more, making 288—the figures Chairman McCormick claimed the day after the election.

Minnesota has an "absent voters' law," by which absent voters may vote wherever they are and have their votes sent in to be counted. Kentucky and Tennessee have no such law, but thousands of their absent voters not only voted but had their votes counted in Indiana.

At 10 o'clock Tuesday night Judge Hughes "went to bed early" the visible portion of his face wreathed in smiles of satisfaction. The dispatches said his wife and daughters showered him with kisses and congratulations and joy reigned supreme in the Hughes household. But oh! what a change in the morning!

Rev. S. J. Catts, the Baptist preacher who won the Democratic nomination for Governor in Florida, but on a re-count lost to W. V. Knott, ran anyhow and was elected by 8,000 votes. He got on the ballot as an Independent and was endorsed by the Prohibitionists. The vote was Catts, 35,817; Knott, 27,848.

One of the ten strikes Chairman Cantrill made was in putting W. P. Walton in charge of the Democratic publicity bureau. The old veteran editor made good from the very jump. His "canned editorials" were so much better than most of us could write, that all of the boys used them. And he kept a supply on hand all of the time.

A line drawn diagonally across the country from Key West to Puget Sound would pass all the way through dry territory. It would cross Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado, Utah, Idaho, Oregon and Washington. Another line from Mexico to Canada would pass through Arizona, Utah, Idaho and Montana. There are 25 dry states and many dry spots in the rest. Only five States west of the Mississippi river remain wet.

PLANS FOR
MONUMENTGen. Young Tells Something About The Obelisk at Fairview.

TO HONOR THE LEADER

Calls Upon Hopkinsville Business Men To Do Something Substantial.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 11, 1916.
Mr. Chas. M. Meacham, Hopkinsville, Ky.My dear Sir:
The other night when I was leaving Hopkinsville I saw a brilliant, gorgeous electric sign facing the depot, with these words, "Greater Hopkinsville wants you."

I am beginning to turn over in my mind whether "Greater Hopkinsville" really wanted me. I believe I can do more for Hopkinsville than any other person, if, in the Jefferson Davis Park, at Fairview, we could construct as a memorial to Jefferson Davis an obelisk three hundred and fifty feet high, thus making it the highest obelisk in the world except the Washington monument. Surely this would be a most attractive structure. It would make Christian county and Hopkinsville historic for centuries to come, and would give them something to boast about that no other community in the South can equal.

If we could build this structure it would mean twenty thousand people would visit Hopkinsville every year. No city in the South could present such an attraction as this obelisk would be. What other thing that Christian county could ever offer would bring so many people to it every twelve months.

No business man in Hopkinsville has ever taken the least interest in this movement up to this time. I did not receive any encouragement from the citizens of Hopkinsville. I went away with the fear that the people of Christian county did not care whether the representatives of the Jefferson Davis Home Association ever came back, and that it was very uncertain whether "Greater Hopkinsville" did want us.

Don't you think, as a matter of deep interest to Hopkinsville and Christian county, that this monument ought to be taken up in a business-like and aggressive way, and every possible encouragement and help offered to the Association to do in their midst this great thing? Kentucky has two famous monuments. One built by the State to its soldiers at Frankfort, and one built by the admirers of Henry Clay at Lexington. The highest of these is one hundred and thirty feet. They would look like pygmies besides this proposed Davis obelisk.

Kindly think this over and write me if you believe Greater Hopkinsville does want me.

Very truly yours,
BENNETT H. YOUNG.VICTIM OF TUBERCULOSISMrs. Clara Boyd, of Larkin Neighborhood, Passes Away
After Long Illness.

Mrs. Clara Boyd died Sunday at her home near Larkin. She had been in declining health for several months, suffering from tuberculosis of the lungs. The deceased was 35 years old and a daughter of the late J. V. Forbes. The interment took place yesterday in the Dick Boyd burial ground, a few miles west of Kelly. A short service was held at the grave.

COMMISSIONERS TO MEET.

The Board of City Commissioners will meet at 10 o'clock this morning with Mayor R. T. Stowe presiding for the first time.

STILL AWAITING
OFFICIAL COUNTWillcox Says He Will Not Concede Defeat Until California Vote Is All In.

N. HAMPSHIRE FOR WILSON

Minnesota Very Close With Hughes Still In the Lead.

New York, Nov. 13.—Charles E. Hughes and William R. Willcox, chairman of the republican national committee, plan to remain in New York for a week or more to await the result of the official count of the vote in California, it was announced last night. Once the official count is finished they expect to take a vacation, Mr. Willcox said.

The national chairman called upon Mr. Hughes at his hotel this afternoon. Later Mr. Willcox said: "We are in the same position we have been since election night. We want an official count in California to assure the re-election of Mr. Wilson before we are willing to concede defeat. Far be it from us to deprive President Wilson of one single vote properly cast for him."

A great many messages from all parts of the country were received at republican headquarters. Mr. Willcox said many of them were "complaints of every kind."

AWAITING SOLDIER VOTE.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 13.—Yesterday's corrections, additions and subtractions left the Hughes plurality in Minnesota at 260.

The total vote was: Wilson 178,548; Hughes 178,808.

Cass county's revised returns gave Wilson 1,260 and Hughes 982. Faribault county favored Wilson, 14 to 12. Tabulations of reports from the county auditors at the capitol is to begin this week and first sheets are expected today. There are a few precincts to hear from and practically all of the Second and Third regiments.

OTHER CLOSE STATES.

The complete returns in New Hampshire gave Wilson 63 majority. New Mexico gave him 2,100 and De Baca, Democrat, for Governor, won by 1,000.

RUMANIAS PUSH BACK TEUTONSAided By Russians Take The Offensive in Vigorous Moves on Two Fronts.

MACKENSEN RETREATS

French Complete their Occupation of Saillisel on Some and Inflict Heavy Loss.

London, Nov. 13.—The Russians and Rumanians on both the Dobrudja and Transylvania fronts of the Rumanian theater are vigorously on the offensive against the troops of the Teutonic allies. Keeping up their operations to the north of the Constantza-Tehernavoda railway begun last week, the Russo-Rumanian forces have been able to push back Field Marshal von Mackensen's men to a front running through the towns of Topal, Iancescu and Karanassuf.

In the Transylvania zone the Russians have gradually reinforced the Rumanians on the section of the line until they are now fighting side by side with them over a front of about 50 miles south of the Bukovina border. The latest official communications from both Bucharest and Petrograd report the capture of Austro-German positions in the Trotus and Alt valleys and the repulse of attacks at various points. Near the Oituz pass the Austro-Germans have made advances according to Berlin.

After days of sanguinary fighting, the village of Saillisel, lying to the east of the Peronne-Baupaume road in the Somme region of France, has at last fallen entirely into hands of the troops of Gen. Foch. In the capture of the town the French inflicted heavy casualties on the Germans, and in addition captured seven officers and 220 men and eight machine guns. On the remainder of the front in France artillery duels are in progress.

Little fighting of moment is going on in the Russian, Macedonian and Austro-Italian theaters.

"Gas was successfully released by us last night against the enemy salient south of Ypres," says an official statement issued here this afternoon.

* Official count may change.

The Democrats appear to have only 215 members of the House, leaving 220 to the opposition. Of these 4 are Independents who are expected to act with the Republicans. The congressional result in New Mexico is doubtful, the chances now favoring the democrats. In Pennsylvania there are two districts and possibly three where the vote, when counted, may change the results. In two of these republicans and in one a democrat have been elected by small majorities on the face of the returns thus far reported. In the Tenth North Carolina, Britt, a republican, is claiming the election over Weaver, democrat, by 13 majority. There will doubtless be many contests and as Congress will not meet for 13 months, death may help to solve a very uncertain problem before the time comes to organize the next House.

SWEARING
BOTH WAYSMany Witnesses Contradict
Mack Logan In Keach
Trial.

SAY MURDER WAS BRUTAL

Deputy Marshal Biddick Tells of the Killing of Keach
at Dawson Springs.

Madisonville, Ky., Nov. 13.—The case of the commonwealth vs. Mack Logan, Buck Furgerson and D. F. Tribble, the three men under indictment for killing K. H. Keach, chief of police at Dawson Springs, was entered into Friday morning. Witnesses for the commonwealth were heard Friday, about thirty being introduced. Evidence was introduced showing that very bitter feelings existed against Keach by Dick Rodgers, the man killed by the marshal and several of the witnesses also testified that threats had been made by Rodgers, Tribble, Furgerson and Logan against the dead officer and that the statement had been made that "Keach would never serve out his term."

The principal witness for the commonwealth was Deputy Marshal Biddick, who was trying to aid his chief when he was shot and killed by Logan. Biddick stated that he was just across the street from Keach when Buck Furgerson, the constable, approached the officer and started to read a paper to him. He stated that Dick Rodgers, a short distance up the street, drew his revolver and fired at Keach, missing, and that Keach then fired and killed Rodgers. He stated that both Furgerson and Tribble then grabbed Keach and were trying to take his gun from him when Biddick reached his side. Keach asked him to aid him, and he stated that at that time Logan came up from the rear, and with the warning to look out, fired, the ball entering the back of Keach's head. He said that at the time the shot was fired, Tribble and Furgerson had Keach around the waist and had his hand, which was holding the revolver, almost to the ground, with the barrel pointing to the ground. Biddick said that after the marshal was shot he started away and that Tribble picked up the dead chief's revolver and fired at him, the ball passing through his coat. Biddick said the constable, Furgerson and Tribble then arrested him and placed him in the lockup. He was later released.

Mack Logan, the man who fired the shot that killed Keach, was on the witness stand Saturday for three hours in his own behalf. The commonwealth heard the last witness at 2 o'clock, and the defense introduced Logan as its first witness.

For the commonwealth, B. M. Hamby, in whose place of business Keach was killed, was the principal witness. Hamby stated that he did not see the shooting, in which Keach killed Rodgers. Following this shooting, however, he stated the men in their scuffle to disarm Keach, struggled into the front of his business house, where his mineral well is located. He said that while Furgerson and Tribble were holding Keach, both having him around the waist and by the arm and hands, with the marshal's revolver pointing at the floor, Logan stepped up from behind, with a revolver in his hand. Realizing Logan's intention, he claimed, he shouted for Logan not to shoot, but that he paid no attention to his remarks, and, warning Tribble and Furgerson to look out, he took the revolver in both hands, placing in near Keach's head and fired, killing the officer. Hamby stated that Tribble then picked up Keach's revolver and shouted to get Biddick (the deputy marshal,) and fired at this officer as he was walking away. Biddick returned and was then placed under arrest.

Several other eye witnesses told practically the same story.

JOLLIFIEDLast Night to Celebrate The Victory of Last Tuesday.

WEATHER UNFAVORABLE

But It Did Not Dampen The Ardo of Hundreds Who Took Part.

A sudden drop in temperature made the weather inclement for last's night Democratic celebration but preparations were actively going ahead, when the Kentuckians went to press, to make it the biggest thing in that line attempted since the Cleveland ratification in 1892.

Indications were that not less than 200 automobiles would be in line, including 29 from Pembroke; 20 from Trenton, 8 from Gracely and others from Cadiz, Eddyville, Murray, Lafayette, Crofton and other towns.

Practically every precinct in the county was expected to be represented by a delegation. The program as arranged was as follows:

PROGRAM.

W. L. Gore and other Marshals on horseback.

Parade to form at Peace Park at 6:30 p. m. Vehicles on 7th street, pedestrians on South Campbell.

LINE OF MARCH.

Seventh street west to Clay, north in Clay to 4th, west in 4th to Main, South in Main to 18th, in 18th to Va., in Va. north to 9th, in 9th east to Peace Park.

PARADE.

1. Mounted police.
2. "Uncle Sam" by L. H. Davis.
3. Campaign Chairman V. E. Barnes escorted by Cois. Ike Hart and Charlie Ryan.
4. Russellville brass band.
5. Automobiles, decorated.
6. Trucks.
7. Floats.
8. Carriages and buggies.
9. Summers Cooper's band of 12 pieces.
10. Footmen with 33 precinct banners and one each for Trigg, Lyon and Calloway. Banner bearers with banners representing the victory. The leading banner inscribed, People's Victory, People's Rally.

COOPER'S BAND.

J. Summers Cooper's band was made up of the following local talent: J. T. Edwards, Jas. Baker, Thurston Layne, Harry P. Pool, Geo. N. Duffer, Tom Kelly, Guy Champion, Lawrence Crouch, Wm. Jesup, Golay P. Pool, H. T. Telford, Driscoll McGowan.

President Wilson was impersonated by George Boren accompanied by Secretary Tumulty (Ed H. Major) and some of the members of the cabinet. Postmaster J. E. Moseley tendered the use of his car.

M. N. Smotherman represented Col. Roosevelt. He was arrayed in a new hunting suit, with leggings, huge eye-glasses, booted and spurred. He rode a fiery mule.

W. M. Hancock represented President Taft and other distinguished men were present by proxy.

A number of local orators were expected to make speeches.

FORMER HOPKINSVILLE BOY.

Thos. C. Joy, the biggest florist in the South, dropped dead at Nashville, Nov. 10th while walking among his flowers with one of his sons. He was a native of Camden and started into the flower business in this city 40 years ago, with the late Judge J. T. Savage. He moved to Nashville in 1878 and made a fortune, building up the largest floral business in the South. He was President of the Tennessee Florists' Association. He was 64 years old.

Announcement is made that difficulties between the Louisville & Nashville railroad company and its firemen which have been threatening a strike will be arbitrated. The difficulties to be arbitrated grew out of the discharge of firemen at Nashville and elsewhere because it was said, they had affiliated themselves with the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen with which the railroad has no contract.

Gov. Hiram W. Johnson, United States senator-elect from California, can keep on being governor of California until December, 1917, if he wants to, according to a statement by U. S. Webb, attorney general of the state. Unless there is a special session called March 4, he need not qualify until December of next year.

A petition enjoining the federal district attorney and "labor leaders" from putting the Adamson eight hour bill into effect was filed in the federal district court at Kansas City, Kan., Thursday in the name of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railway.

Many railroads, including the L. & N., are bringing suits to test the Adamson law, which regulated the wages to be paid by directing ten hours' pay for eight hours' work.
The question is by no means certain to stand the test of constitutionality.

The House seems to be a tie, but this is not so bad in view of the fact that many Republicans in the House have voted with the President on his great public measures. On the Adamson law, a majority of them stood by him.

New Mexico arrived a day late, to find that California was already there with the goods. But she backed up any possible split in the California vote by making the total six more than needed.

With Hughes 400 ahead on the canvass in Minnesota, the votes of 2,100 soldiers on the border will settle the election in Minnesota. Watch Wilson win.

Wilson overcame a popular adverse majority of 1,400,000 in 1912 (Taft and Roosevelt combined) and is running ahead 400,000 on the popular vote.

Gardner, Democrat, for Governor of Missouri, had a pretty close rub, beating Lammi, Republican, by only about 3,000.

By-the-way, wasn't there some sort of trouble going on in Europe
when this excitement came up?

Let's see. Let's see. Which Western state was it that didn't go for Wilson? Oh! yes, 'twas Oregon.

Some of the roughest riding was done in the West. Even Buffalo Bill carried his state with him.

The winds of the West are still blowing through the whiskers of Hughes.

It is estimated that 850,000 women voted in Illinois and the trouble is that most of them voted wrong.

Don't worry. Col. Roosevelt will not control the policy of the next President.

New Hampshire looms up as the one bright star in the East.

RAILROADS GRANT RATE

Notable Gathering of Baptists
In Louisville Next
Tuesday.

The Baptist General Association organization will be effected on next Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Walnut Street Church, Louisville.
The annual sermon will be preached that night. Dr. W. D. Powell, Corresponding Secretary, will present the report of the State Board at the afternoon meeting. The gifts for the year amount to more than $200,000.
There is some debt on the Budget because the churches have failed to pay the full apportionment to the Kentucky Baptist Children's Home at Glendale and the cause of Christian Education.

On Wednesday at noon a buffet luncheon will be served by the Louisville Convention and Publicity League,
Mr. Denny B. Goode presiding. Wednesday night the Budget Plan will be discussed.

Thursday at noon there will be a men's banquet addressed by Dr.
Frederick A. Agar, of New York, the Method Secretary of the Northern Baptist Convention. He is one of the most entertaining speakers in America.

Thursday afternoon the messengers will be taken in automobiles on a sight-seeing trip to the points of interest in Louisville.

At night Dr. J. W. Porter will present the report on State Missions. He will speak, followed by Dr. Agar and then there will be brief addresses by a large number of mountain preachers.
This will be one of the most interesting hours of the entire Association.

Salt Evaporation Big Industry.

In the production of that indispensable condiment, salt, the United States is happily independent of all other countries. The 38,231,436 barrels of salt produced in 1915 by 14 States, Porto Rico and Hawaii, constituted 90 per cent of the salt consumed in the United States, and much more could easily have been supplied had the demand required it, according to the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior.

Salt occurs naturally in two distinct ways—as rock salt, in beds or associated with bedded or sedimentary deposits, and in natural brines. The larger part of our salt is obtained by converting rock salt that lies deep below the earth's surface into artificial brines, which are pumped to the surface and there evaporated. Some idea of the quantity of salt evaporated from natural brines may be gained from statistics of the output of New York, Michigan and Kansas alone, three large salt-producing States, for the calendar year 1915. In Michigan, 6,708,271 barrels of evaporated salt, having a value of $3,635,692, were produced; in New York, 3,443,464 barrels, valued at $1,720,434; and in Kansas, 1,901,756 barrels, valued at $696,060.

Zulu Characteristics.

It is a recognized fact that the Zulu tribe is one of the finest in southern Africa. The Zulu has a sturdy frame, a strong chest, wonderful digestion, magnificent teeth, and fine muscles. He can stand hunger, fatigue and exposure. While he is slow to adopt modern methods of dillage, irrigation and fertilizing, he is beginning to recognize their advantages. His hospitality, indifference to pain, sense of humor, good temper, love of children, and trustworthiness are all good traits in his character.
He is a manly specimen, not a cringing toady, and, in his natural state, a gentleman, every bit of him. In general, he is law-abiding and obedient, and he is not purposely cruel. He has strong musical sense, and a remarkable knowledge of time and rhythm.
His powers of singing, even when but slightly trained, are extraordinary.
The Zulu knows a good deal about some things, but what he does not know of what the white man are matters of common, everyday knowledge, is appalling. His instructor is always running up against a high brick wall of stupendous ignorance.—

Give Us the Old Gods and Men!
No matter whether Shakespeare

Sloan's Liniment for Neuralgia Aches.

The dull throb of neuralgia is quasily relieved by Sloan's Liniment, the universal remedy for pain.
Easy to apply; it quickly penetrates without rubbing and soothes the sore muscles. Cleaner and more promptly effective than musky plasters or ointment; does not stain the skin or clog the pores. For stiff muscles, chronic rheumatism, gout, lumbago,
sprains and strains it gives quick relief. Sloan's Liniment reduces the pain and inflammation in insect bites,

RAVAGES OF "BLACK DEATH"

Bubonic Plague, Proved to Have Been Transmitted by Rat and Flea, Is Being Controlled.

Bubonic plague is one of the oldest enemies of mankind, and it used to be called the black death on account of the black spots that came on the body
during the disease.

It is now supposed that many of the great plagues of history were of the bubonic variety, and thousands died during each great epidemic. Even in comparatively recent times 20,000 died of it in Bombay, India.

As is now well known, the disease is a rat disease, and as soon as the mode of transmission became known it was studied and is now controlled, says an exchange.

Bubonic plague is transmitted by the rat flea—the rat being the first host, as scientists say.

The attack is an acute infection, caused by a special germ given by the bite of a flea, in precisely the same way as both malaria and yellow fever are transmitted by mosquitoes.

This special kind of flea seems to prefer the rat as a place of attack, although in California this same kind of flea is found on ground squirrels.

Bubonic plague is fatal to the rats themselves and when a rat dies the fleas at once attach themselves to some other living animal, apparently preferring either cats or dogs to human beings. In fact, the finding of an unusual number of dead rats in any place where bubonic plague is suspected is one of the first indications of its possible presence.

Now, while there are known to be several kinds of rats, the black and the brown are the most common.

Brown rats live in cellars, while black ones seem to prefer to live in the parts of a house above the ground floor. Bubonic plague often breaks out in seaport towns, being brought there by rats in cargoes of grain. We know that the ancients knew bubonic plague and suffered terribly from its ravages, and the fact that the cat was held by the Egyptians as a sacred animal is traced to the protection from rats, afforded to houses where cats were kept.

The disease commences with a raging fever, headache and complete prostration, and small dark spots appearing upon the skin. These spots were called plague spots. Buboes or swellings in the region of the groin appear. It is extremely malignant and recovery is very rare, mortality reaching 80 or 90 per cent.

Inoculations reduce the chances of subsequent infection four-fifths, and include the chance of recovery.

The great fire in London in 1666 destroyed thousands of infected rats and thus relieved England of the bubonic plague, which had been very frequent there since 1350.

His Early Reputation.

When Mr. Lloyd-George was a young country solicitor in Wales, he was riding home in his dogcart one day and came upon a little Welsh girl trudging along so wearily that he offered her a ride. She accepted silently, but all the way along the future statesman, although he tried hard to engage her in conversation, could not get her to say anything more than a timid "Yes"
or "No."

Some days afterward the little girl's mother happened to meet Mr. Lloyd-George, and said to him smilingly,
"Do you remember that little girl rode home with you the other day? Well, when she got home she said 'Mamma,
I rode from school with Mr. Lloyd-George,
the lawyer, and he kept talking to me,
and I didn't know what ever to do, for you know Mr. Lloyd-George charges you whenever you talk with him, and I hadn't any money!'"—Youth's Companion.

February.

February is the calendar's only shortage in all its weary rounds of great and small business routine. In spite of its Gregorian reformation February turned out bad. Of the year's family of twelve, the second was destined to be the black sheep. As to just when its shortage first occurred we do not know, and it would require a pilgrimage to the encyclopedia to find out—so let it go, but suffice to say that it was finally discovered by an unexpected examiner that dropped in and demanded the books.

In prison he was known as "28" and called, "Feb" for short.

It may be added to the month's credit, however, that although its life is fraught with hard and bitter experiences, it brought us Washington and Lincoln. 'T showed the world that it could make good—and it did.—No.

When David Stanton of Holly avenue went to take out his automobile he discovered that the car was shy a tire, with rim attached. An investigation revealed the fact that a stranger walked into a store in the center of the town around noon with a tire and rim over his shoulder, asked for paper stolen articles, paid for the wrappings and asked the way to the railroad station. His nerve saved the stranger from arrest, as no one suspected him.

RED HEADED GIRL

Who Graduated In 1909 Is Elected To Congress.

Miss Jeannette Rankin, daughter of a Missoula, Mont., banker, was elected as one of the representatives-at-large from Montana in Tuesday's election. Thirty out of the forty counties nominated her on the republican and prohibition tickets.

Miss Rankin is tall, has a mass of red hair and is very attractive. Besides, she has a way of wearing her clothes that fills women with admiration.

She was graduated from the New York School of Philanthropy in 1909 and later took up suffrage work. Her efforts were largely responsible for getting through the New York legislature in 1913 the bill permitting the suffrage referendum. The next year she led a successful fight for suffrage in her own state.

In order that the voters of New York city might record their choices in national, state and local political contests nearly 4,000 miles of ballots were required. At each of the 2,123 polling places in the greater city there were eight election officials at each polling place, a total of 16,984 officials.

Value of Reading.

There is perhaps nothing that has a greater tendency to decide favorably or unfavorably respecting a man's intellect than the question whether or not he is impressed with an early love of reading. Books gratify and excite our curiosity in innumerable ways. They force us to reflect. In a well-written book we are presented with the maturest reflections or the happiest flights of a mind of uncommon excellence. It is impossible that we can be much accustomed to such companions without attaining some resemblance to them.—William Godwin.

The tablet form of this old reliable remedy makes it possible for you to check any illness at the very onset. It is a safeguard against coughs, colds and other catarrhal conditions, no matter what symptoms are manifest. Catarrh is an inflammation of the mucous membrane that lines the breathing apparatus and the digestive apparatus. PERUNA relieves catarrh. In tablet form it is EVER-READY-TO-TAKE.

Its prompt action makes it invaluable for men and women exposed to sudden changes in the weather or compelled to be out in slush and rain.

It will also be found most satisfactory as a tonic following an attack of illness.

Barbarous New Words.

Some of the newest words invented by chemists to describe new substances are cited by the Medical Record as illustrative of the barbarous terminology that they are trying to foist upon us. Among these are the following, all taken from a single number of the Journal of the Chemical Society: tetradimethylaminotetraphenylhydrazine, dimethylaminophenylmethoxyquionedilimide and tetramethylaminotetramethylaminodiphenylhydrazine. These the Medical Record calls "Gargantuan philological outrages."

MARBLES IN ANNUAL DEMAND

Each Spring, It is Estimated: More Than 200,000,000 Are Used in the United States.

It has been estimated by statisticians that more than 200,000,000 small clay marbles are used by the boys of the United States every springtime. It is a known fact that 125,000,000 marbles are made every year by one clay marble manufacturer whose plant is in Summit county, Ohio. And these marbles are made or rolled by young girls, the Cleveland Plain Dealer states.

The marble manufacturer does not devote all his attention to the manufacturing of the "game marble." There are various uses to which the marble is put, and as a matter of fact, the size varies according to its intended use. The Standard Oil company is one of the largest buyers of marbles, and these are used for oil cans and larger sizes are started in graded pipelines to clean out the paraffin which gathers on the side of the pipe as it flows to the tanks.

Clay marbles are used also by the manufacturer of rubber, ink and salt, chemical and powdermakers. They are used also in grinding the large stones of the lithographer and by railway supply people. Puzzle box makers are also large buyers of marbles.

The sizes of the clay marbles as made in the United States vary from nine-sixteenths of an inch in diameter, which is the small "pill" the boys play with, to one measuring six inches in diameter, or about the size of a cannon ball.

TALE OF "MOTHER HUBBARD"

Its First Entrance Into Hawaii and the Eternal Favor Which It Gained Thereby.

There is a story, vouched for by an American, who lives in Hawaii, of the influence of the Mother Hubbard there.

Years ago, the story goes, an American was organizing a sewing class among the native Hawaiian women. At that time they gowned themselves in seaweed and strings of shells, and the American wanted to teach them to make more substantial clothes for their own use. So she sent home to the United States and asked that a pattern of the simplest garment possible be sent her—something so easy that even fingers that had never before wielded a needle could follow it.

The Mother Hubbard had but recently made its appearance, and a pattern of this new and simple garment was sent to the worker in Hawaii. Hawaiian women by the score emerged from seaweed fringe into cotton Mother Hubbards, and a white cotton gown modeled on this famous original became practically the national feminine attire of the islands.

To this day you cannot persuade a native Hawaiian woman of the lower classes that the Mother Hubbard is not the native dress of American women. They have never changed their habit of wearing a cotton Mother Hubbard as a badge of civilization.

Will Kill Germs on Pencils.

Of the 50,000 school children in this country who are the annual victims of preventable disease, there is no doubt that a goodly per cent of them contracted disease from the habit of sucking the points of pencils passed from hand to hand.

To prevent this transmission of deadly germs of preventable diseases a new device has just been invented, says an exchange.

It is a specially constructed rack upon which pencils collected from the children can be placed with the tips resting in sockets where they are acted upon by a formalin gas disinfectant, which kills all germs.

To get the best and safest results two sets of pencils should be kept on hand. While one set is in use the other can be undergoing disinfecting. Thus by changing pencils twice a day the danger of the spread of germs can be cut in half.

Dorothy's Peril.

One day, when Dorothy's mother was reading to the little maid, she came to the word "gravitation." She explained its meaning, but thought the child would forget it. Consequently she was much surprised when, a few days later, Dorothy came running in, crying:

"Oh, mother! it's such a good thing for me there's a law of gravitation; if there wasn't I'd have surely tumbled head over heels into Heaven just now!"

Different Kinds of Trains.

The boasted "Balkanzug" brings back holiday memories of all those different kinds of trains which the German language, after its habit, describes in one word. There were the Vergnuegungszug, the pleasure or excursion train; the Personenzug, corresponding to our parliamentary train; the Schnellzug, or express train; and, above all, that impressively named Blitzzug, the "lightning" train, which achieved the 105 1/2 miles in three and one-half hours.—London Chronicle

19 WOMEN IN SECTION GANG KILLED

Run Down by the Balkan Express in a Suburb of Berlin While Working.

Berlin, Nov. 13.—The Balkan express, which runs between Constantinople and Berlin, dashed at full speed today into a party of women section hands in a suburb of Berlin. Nineteen women were killed.

There was a heavy fog at the time. The women had stepped out of the way of a westbound train and did not observe the approaching Balkan express.

Every String Was Pulled.

It is coming out in the aftermath that the result in Indiana was largely influenced by political priests and preachers. Hon. John W. Boehne in a letter in the Evansville Courier says: "I have before me a set of resolutions signed by eight ministers of the Gospel representing seven different German Protestant denominations. These resolutions are pregnant with denunciation, false witnesses and hate, the concluding paragraphs of which I quote in part as follows:

"Resolved that we employ all our STRENGTH and INFLUENCE, and we hereby obligate ourselves to exert all our ENERGY for the election of Charles E. Hughes and request all GERMAN AMERICAN COLLEAGUES of ALL DENOMINATIONS to do the same, either by PERSONAL AGITATION or by spreading campaign literature or by neighborhood mass meeting as the circumstances may require."

This pernicious activity was carried out by these men of the cloth. These resolutions were sent to the pastors of different denominations with the request to distribute them among the congregations. Thank God, however, not many pastors allowed themselves to forget their divine calling so far as to take part in such a nefarious political activity, so unbecoming of a minister of the gospel."

Snapshot in Boston.

In Boston a photographer surreptitiously snapped a young blond. The young blond called him an impudent mammothrept. He had strength enough left to grope for a dictionary, which informed him that in the young blond's eyes he was "a child reared by its grandmother; a spoiled child." If he were to pack that word up carefully and take it down to market, he might be able to sell it for its weight in gold.—New York Post.

NEVER LEARNED THE TRUTH

Callow Youngsters Might Have Repented of Their Condemnation If They Had but Known.

Youth and presumably innocence were waiting at a French goods counter while the clerk wrapped up jars of pink stuff which they didn't need. Each was audacious in the matter of short skirts, and both were chewing gum.

On a stool at the same counter sat another customer, a woman just facing the agony line which separates beauty from vandial Age. And Youth and innocence felt called on to dissect her. They handled impressions as to the woman's looks, and giggled over her desperate attempts to retain her complexion and age. Their sharp young eyes took in the nobby dress that was almost shabby, and their sharp young voices would have stashed her to the quick except that she seemed to be walled in by some concentrated thought that cloistered her from their blows.

"I hetshees bad."

The gum-stuck verdict came from innocence, whose lawful place at that minute should have been in some eighth-grade schoolroom.

"Uccorse. Anybody'n tell that."

Whodjessose would lookatole mut like her?"

Then Youth and Innocence, without explaining how they came to be so sordidly enlightened at their callow years, suddenly switched interest to their wrapped-up stuff, and—That was all there was to it.

Except that the woman, having hought and paid for her own little box of something, got up and hurried to the store entrance, where another woman stopped to congratulate her on some appointment obtained by her son:

"Isn't it splendid! Papa and I are so proud of him—I'm especially glad for papa because he has been so depressed ever since his last attack—Ned's going to send him to Atlantic City right away—traveled! After all these poverty-pinched days—"

"Well, you surely deserve all the good luck that's coming to you—Don't see how on earth you keep your color after all the nursing you've had to do—"

"Tong, my dear, Papa'd be too wretched for words if he knew my complexion had gone yellow—but Ned says I shouldn't need it after this—"

This last much of a yarn, of course, but we have Plutarch's word for it that truth is always worth considering. And this is true.—Washington Star.

Scientists Study "Flying Sickness."

"Flying sickness" in its more essential particulars is deserving of careful and scientific investigation, according to the London Lancet. It raises matters of interest in connection with so-called mountain sickness. Edward Whymper states from his own experience of this condition that the aching symptoms are profound lassitude, intense headache, feverishness, accelerated respiration and occasional spasmodic gulping of air, "just like the fishes when taken out of water," palpitation and tinnitus. The latter two symptoms, no doubt, occur also with great frequency at relatively low levels.

"It is clear," says the Lancet, "that flying sickness is not comparable in the strict sense with mountain sickness, in spite of the fact that some of the symptoms are more or less identical. Hitherto we have had little direct evidence of what occurs as a result of rapid transference from high to low altitudes, for the laborious ascent of the mountain peaks into regions air is very different from a speedy return to normal pressures, while the climb of a flying machine is hardly so rapid as to cause any ill effect. The pilot who is lifted from his machine, after a fast volplane, in a semiconscious condition, falling thereafter into a deep sleep, shows a phenomenon not met with either in mountain sickness or in calisson disease."

To Promote Safety.

The newest museum in New York is called the American Museum of Safety. It contains collections of models, charts and photographs, actual machines safeguarded in full size, together with models of safety devices and sanitary appliances. The museum is free to the public. By special arrangement it is open in the evenings to classes and societies. The activities of the museum of safety are devoted to the safety, health and welfare of industrial workers and the advancement of the science of industry. The society gives yearly medals to those which make notable achievements in devices for the security of human life, and to firms that make notable progress in the promotion of hygiene and the mitigation of occupational disease in their industry, and to railroads that promote safety for the traveling public.

Japanese Turn to Dye Making.

The Japanese are apparently going to take up dye making, now that German products cannot be obtained and the plan has been taken up by private enterprise, assisted by government. A number of business men were invited to the department of agriculture and commerce one day lately and shown the draft law for the encouragement of the manufacture of drugs and dyestuffs. The vice-minister of agriculture and commerce reported particulars regarding the encouragement law, and invited those present to give their views, without reserve, regarding the establishment of a company. It was subsequently decided that those present should consider the matter, and give their views later.

Cost of a Villa.

When the Smiths' suburban villa was completed and they counted costs, it appeared that the painter's bill was $82 in excess of the paperhanger's charges, the plumber charged $30 more than the painter; the mason received $160 more than the plumber and the carpenter, who charged $24 more than the mason, rendered a bill three times as large as that of the paperhanger. The lot cost half as much as the house, so who can tell how much the Smiths' new home cost?

COMPENSATION BOARD PASSES ON 167 CLAIMS Body Meets in Louisville To-day To Hear Testimony In Contested Cases.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 10.—The Workmen's Compensation Board Friday passed upon 167 claims, including the first permanent total disability case, and three death claims. The board will meet in Louisville to hear contested cases.

George Wilson, whose back was broken in a fall of slate in a mine of the Pond Creek Coal Company at Cleaton will receive $5.63 the week; and Tom Houndshell, laborer, of Jackson, eyes were gouged out with a handspike, receives $9.75 for 100 weeks.

Compensation was allowed for the deaths of Gabe Johnson, killed by a fall of slate in a mine at Straight Creek; the death of James Henry Mutters, killed by slate in the Winslow mine, Boyd county, and for the death of Robert B. Smith, killed by slate in the Bon Jellico Company's mine at Bon Jellico.

A UNIQUE RECORD

Very Few Like It In Our Broad Republic.

Grateful testimony for Doan's Kidney Pills, published everywhere, is of itself convincing evidence of merit. Confirmed testimony forms still stronger evidence. Years ago, a citizen of this locality gratefully acknowledged the benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills. The statement is now confirmed—the proof more convincing. Cases of this kind are plentiful in the work of Doan's Kidney Pills—the record is unique.

Mrs. A. T. Lee, Elkton, Ky., says: "Kidney disease made me miserable and I could not turn in bed without my back being racked with pain. My strength had left me and I thought I had little longer to live. The kidney secretions were unnatural. I used a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and received relief at once. Continued use made me well and strong."

Over three years later, Mrs. Lee said: "I still use Doan's Kidney Pills occasionally and find them an excellent medicine for kidney trouble."

OLDEST CHESTNUTS

Hundred Times Older Than
The Wheat Found In
The Pyramids.

Among the fossils recently discovered by the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior, are remarkably well preserved impressions or casts of leaves of several extinct varieties of ash, oak, beech and hickory, which are found, along with three present-day species, in States bordering the Gulf of Mexico. Although the leaves themselves have rotted and gone, here and there some were buried in soft clay by sediment in such a way as to leave perfectly preserved impressions. The nuts, on the other hand, neither decayed nor petrified, but fell into pools of stagnant water, which is one of the best preservatives in nature, and sooner or later were also buried under silt and clay. Owing to their hard coats, those which fell into places favorable to their preservation are today in excellent condition, though slightly flattened by the long soaking and the gentle pressure of the clay. The deposit in which the leaves and nuts are found is not less than a million years old, or at least a hundred times as old as the pyramids of Egypt.

The report containing descriptions and reproductions of photographs of these fossils remains (Professional Paper 98-L) is purely technical and may be obtained from the Director, Geological Survey, Washington, D. C.

Died Unvanquished

Berlin, November 10.—In its account of the funeral of Captain Boelke, Germany's most famous aviator, the Lokal Anzeiger says that at the grave Lieutenant Thomsen, Chief of the German aerial fleet, made the solemn promise in the name of his comrades and the disciples of the dead aviator, "I shall become a Boelke."

The streets of Dessau, Captain Boelke's home town, were thronged. A squadron of aviators flew along the route of the funeral procession to the cemetery.

An eyewitness's account of the death of Captain Boelke was given out here by the Overseas News Agency as follows:

"Captain Boelke met with the accident in which he was killed at 5 o'clock on the afternoon of October 31. He had just disabled a hostile machine in a fierce aerial combat. At the conclusion of the battle another German airplane touched Boelke's machine and part of a plane of the latter was torn off.

"Captain Boelke descended swiftly in a narrow spiral for some distance, but when at a height of about 200 yards his machine suddenly fell. The body of the aviator was not touched by projectiles. After having defeated 40 adversaries an accident terminated his life, and he died unvanquished."

WOMAN SENT TO CONGRESS

Miss Jeannette Rankin, Republican, Receiving Congratulations.

Missoula, Mont., Nov. 13.—Messages of congratulations from suffrage leaders in many parts of the country poured into Missoula for Miss Jeannette Rankin, Republican, the first woman to be elected to Congress. Miss Rankin's campaign managers contend that she has been successful by at least 2,000 majority.

"I felt that the women would stand by me," Miss Rankin said today. "It is wonderful to me to think of having the opportunity of being the first woman to sit in Congress with 434 men." Miss Rankin is small and slight. She is a graduate of the University of Montana and the School of Philanthropy of New York City.

The Great Stone Face.

Hawthorne's "Old Man of the Mountains," the "Great Stone Face" in the White Mountains, is to be operated upon to save it. What appears to be a "growth" on the patient's forehead is to be removed. The operation which, in some respects, will be the most remarkable "surgical" feat ever accomplished, has many unique features.

In the first place, the "growth" to be removed is some forty feet long. Then again, the operation is to be performed in the clouds. The "surgeons" will be engineers and builders. The nurses will be masons and carpenters.

Needless to say the patient is no human being. It is a creature of rock, a natural formation which for centuries has excited the wonder and admiration of its beholders. The ancient tribes of Indians worshiped it. Nathaniel Hawthorne immortalized it in one of his famous short stories, and it has excited the astonishment of myriads of travelers who have come from the four corners of the earth to gaze upon it. The old geographers used to portray it in company with the Leaning Tower of Pisa, the gigantic natives of Patagonia, Niagara fall and other wonders of the world.

The fact is, there is no finer or more impressive phenomenon of the kind to be found anywhere.

For these reasons, the fact that the patient is inanimate in no way diminishes the interest and concern which hundreds of thousands of individuals feel as to his condition nor the anxiety regarding the outcome of the operation.

So much importance is attached to the proposed operation that Gov. Spaulding of New Hampshire has taken personal charge of it.

Cotton 50c.

Sea Island cotton was sold in Savannah Friday at 50 cents a pound. This is the highest price ever paid for the staple in the memory of the cotton exchange. It is believed the price will go higher.

Truest Form of Bravery.

True bravery is shown by performing without witness what one might be capable of doing before all the world.—La Rochefoucauld.

by Furgerson to assist in making the arrest, as were Rodgers and Tribble to assist. He stated that he tried to be relieved of this, telling the constable that he did not need any one to help, but that the officer had said Keach was a bad man and he would "take no chance." Logan stated that Furgerson and Rodgers started out to make the arrest, with himself and Tribble following a few feet behind, that Furgerson approached Keach, read the warrant, that he heard Keach say, "No, no," and then a shot was fired.

He said he heard but one shot and saw Rodgers fall, then saw Furgerson and Tribble grab Keach, and while struggling with the marshal for possession of the officer's gun, Logan claimed Furgerson cried out, not to let Keach shoot him, and that the officer had his revolver pointing directly in Furgerson's side. Logan said it was then that he walked up, placed his gun near Keach's head, demanded that he surrender his revolver, which he did not do. He then fired, he stated, in order to save the life of the constable. He also believed, he said, that Keach and his deputy, Biddick, would have killed all three of the defendants had he not fired.

Logan denied that enmity existed between himself and the dead marshal. He was cross-examined for an hour by the commonwealth. The evidence in the case will take up all of Monday and probably Tuesday.

Murray Votes Bonds.

Murray passed, by a substantial majority, a bond issue of $20,000 for the building or purchase of an electric light plant, to supply light and power to the city of Murray and the surrounding country points.

INSTALL OFFICIALS New Commissioners Took Charge In Paducah.

Paducah Ky., Nov. 13.—City officials elected Tuesday were inducted into office Saturday when the new Board of City Commissioners held its first meeting. Frank N. Burns succeeded Ernest Lackey as Mayor, and Eugene Graves, W. A. Gardner and Don P. Marton supplanted Hal S. Corbett, Sanders E. Clay and George C. Wallace as commissioners. Many changes will be made in the police, fire and other departments. Henry Bailey, present Day Captain of Police, is tipped for Chief of Police. He has had many years of experience and is eminently qualified for the position. Police Chief James Eaker will be retired. Jack Slaughter is expected to be retained as Chief of the Fire Department.

IN MEMORY.

Miss Mary Harrison, daughter of J. W. Harrison, of this city, and sister of Mrs. J. F. Adcock, died Nov. 4, 1916. God has taken one of the brightest jewels from the home of Mr. Harrison. While we cannot see now why she was taken, we shall know hereafter, when we meet Mary in Heaven. It grieved our heart to see one so dear and so bright taken from her sister.

A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is stilled,
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.
We loved her, ah, we loved her,
But Jesus loved her more.
He just stopped and took her
To yon eternal shore.

DIED OF CANCER.

Jesse Vinson, aged 40, a farmer at Cadiz, died Friday of cancer. He was a brother of Clyde Vinson, of this city, Tom Vinson of Gracely, and Jno. R. Vinson, of Cadiz. He was a son of H. C. Vinson and leaves a wife and one son, Carey.

THIEVES STILL AT WORK

Several Houses Entered and Jewelry and Other Articles Are Taken.

Dr. T. W. Blakey's residence, South Main street, was robbed of several articles of jewelry, Friday afternoon, during the absence of the family. Entrance was effected through a rear door, a skeleton key probably being used. Thieves also entered the residence of N. C. McDonald on Bryan street the same afternoon and a number of articles were taken. The family was absent when this robbery occurred also. A few days before the residence of Mr. Vitas Gates was entered and several articles were stolen. Saturday morning the police got on the trail of some of the articles taken from the Gates residence and they were found in the possession of Tony Dattilo, Jr., who said he got them from a negro. Articles recovered were a gold bracelet with diamond, a lady's gold watch, a gold locket, a gold cross and Mr. Gates' S. & W. pistol. Some of the articles taken from Dr. Blakey's were bought from a negro answering the same description and turned over to the police by Charlie Jackson.

WATERS REVIVAL AT GRACEY.

The Waters Evangelistic Chautauqua, composed of talented Ministers and singers, will begin a community or union meeting in the Methodist church at Gracey next Monday night, Nov. 20. These people have just closed a three-weeks' revival at Trenton with 200 conversions. Evangelist Bascom Waters is a remarkably successful preacher.

LOST TO PADUCAH.

The Paducah High School football team defeated Hopkinsville High School 31 to 0, in a game here Saturday.

CHEAP CARS POPULAR.

Only 94 automobiles were licensed last week and of these 51 were Fords. A dealer in a neighboring city is now selling Fords on the monthly installment plan. Few of the high-priced machines are now being sold in Kentucky. There are now 31,700 automobiles in use in the Bluegrass State, a gain over last year of 12,200 machines. There are cars in every county in the State. Christian county has about 350.

Ella Monroe Case.

The Ella Monroe murder case will be called next Tuesday in the Hardin Circuit Court, but there is said to exist a small probability that the trial will be heard at this term. The girl is out on bond.
